Explore the Charles former model home in Springboro, OH at Wadestone and experience a decorated model home by Fischer Homes designed with open shared spaces and purposeful room placement throughout. This two-story home design offers 3 to 6 bedrooms, 2.5 to 4.5 bathrooms, and 2,457 square feet, creating a layout that supports a variety of household needs while maintaining a cohesive and functional flow. Shared living areas are arranged to support everyday routines and gatherings, while intuitive transitions between rooms help create a comfortable and connected environment.

At the center of the Charles is a main living area that connects the family room, kitchen, and dining spaces in a cohesive configuration that supports ease of movement and shared interaction. Flexible areas throughout the home provide opportunities to personalize the layout based on how the space is used, whether for work, relaxation, or other day-to-day needs. Available configuration choices may offer additional ways to tailor the design based on community and plan selection.

The Charles home design is planned with adaptability in mind, incorporating multiple spaces that can support a range of routines over time. Shared living areas provide room
